++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Patchy cloud and sunny spells. Feeling warmer than on Monday.

Today:
A fine, dry start for western areas. Patchy rain for eastern parts soon clearing through morning, but cloud will be slow to break up. A dry afternoon follows, with western areas seeing the best of any sunny spells. Winds easing. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry overnight, with patchy cloud but also plenty of clear spells, allowing for a risk of mist forming in prone areas. Turning chilly in rural areas. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Wednesday:
A bright but chilly start, but cloud gradually spilling in from the northwest through the day. Staying largely dry, though western coasts likely seeing some light rain or drizzle later. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Largely dry Thursday with some sunny spells. A rainy start Friday but becoming drier and brighter later. Light rain or showers Saturday, but also some bright spells. Feeling warm.
